Sunday, April 14, 2024 / Third Sunday of Easter / Luke 24:35-48

Friends, in today's Gospel, the risen Jesus appears to his eleven disciples. He does not appear as a Platonic soul, a ghost, or a hallucination. Instead, he can be touched and seen, has flesh and bones, and can consume baked fish. Against all their expectations, a dead man had returned, through the power of God, bodily and objectively, from death.

Even while insisting on this bodiliness and objectivity, we must not go to the opposite extreme. It really was Jesus, the crucified, who had returned from the dead. But he did not come back simply resuscitated to the confines of ordinary space and time. He was not, in a word, like Lazarus, the daughter of Jairus, or the son of the widow of Naim, all people who had been raised only to die again.

Instead, Jesus' body is transformed and transfigured, independent of the strictures of space and time; it is, in Paul's language, a "spiritual" body. And the point is this: he has triumphed over death and all that pertains to death. His resurrected body is a foretaste and promise of what God intends for all of us.

Youth Group Pilgrimage

We had a great pilgrimage to Rome during the week.

Highlights included the papal audience, visits to great churches including St. Peter's Basilica and St. Paul's outside the Walls, a tour of the St. Callisto Catacombs, learning about the saints and guided prayer, games in the Villa Borghese Park, as well as some tasty pizza!

Many thanks to the great team of youth leaders, youth people and those who supported the pilgrimage with their generosity.

Caesar vs. Jesus

After Jesus rose from the dead, the early Christians bolted around the world proclaiming, "Jesus is Lord!" Those words might not alarm us today, but in the first century, the term "Lord" was reserved exclusively for Caesar, the Roman emperor. So by calling Jesus "Lord," the early Christians were making a provocative claim: there's a new king in town, and he is not Caesar Augustus. His name is Jesus of Nazareth. r parish has gifted you access to all of Word on Fire's

CPP Home Industry Fair

One of the objectives of our international charity is to help the Kimbo parish build a sustainable community.

However as the saying goes 'charity starts at home' so the focus of our next fundraising event is on supporting our CPP community, whilst raising funds for Kimbo.

We will therefore be holding our first ever CPP Home Industry Fair on Saturday 18th May in the Church hall, when we encourage parishioners who run businesses from home to take a table to exhibit their services.

Whilst Exhibitors will pay for a table, attendance is free and so we hope that you will all pop in between 10.30 am and 1:00 pm on the day to see how you can support your fellow parishioners' businesses now or perhaps sometime in the future.

More specific details to follow.

In the meantime, please do save Saturday 18th May in your diaries!
