Friends, the image of God as shepherd is a classic one in the Bible. In the book of the prophet Ezekiel, we hear that God would one day come and shepherd Israel himself. Shepherds guarded, guided, protected, and watched over their flocks—just as God guards, guides, protects, and watches over Israel.

This image comes to a climactic expression in the words of Jesus: "I am the good shepherd." What precisely makes him good? A good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. The good shepherd is so other-oriented, so devoted to his sheep, that he is willing to surrender his life that they might live.

Sure, a good shepherd should do all that he can to protect and guide his flock, but who among us would really expect him to give his life for them? But this is precisely what Jesus claims to do.

Imagine the difference between humans and sheep; now, multiply that difference infinitely. That would give you some idea of the difference between God and humanity. And yet God is willing to lay down his life for the likes of us.

Bishop Robert Barron

Thank You

In 2023, Christ the Prince of Peace raised £2,766.10 through our Red Boxes and donations to Missio and the Mill Hill Missionaries.

Thank you!

Our Missionary community here at Christ the Prince of Peace is part of a worldwide network of people supporting missionaries overseas through prayer and financial assistance.

Your support of Missionary Priests, like Father Ignatuis MHM working in a rural community in Uganda, enables people to come together to celebrate the Eucharist and to work together to improve the lives of the whole community.

Visit Missio.org.uk to find out more.

When a violent skeptic meets Jesus Christ

Before he was Saint Paul, author of most of the New Testament, Saul of Tarsus was an ardent persecutor of Christians. He not only mocked their religion but even helped murder many of them. But then, making his way to Damascus to track down and kidnap more Christians, he encountered the risen Christ. The experience was life-changing, to say the least. Paul shifted his focus, becoming an equally ardent follower of Jesus Christ, and brought the good news of his Resurrection to countless people around the world.
